I say that medical doesn't need testing its crazy to think that there's dirty medical cannabis and the stuff that is dirty or a concern for the health of the patients has already been addressed individually and been taken care of if your using clean practices and know how to deal with problems in your grow to avoid patient contact with contamination there wouldn't be a problem, the problem is the big medical corporations that don't know and don't care where there products come from and most of the time they are "dirty" physically and chemically and most of the time failed to be clean for the patient , now let me talk about metrc this is a failed program that has been failing before it was being used if the Edible maker is a good edible maker they should know how to properly dose and make sure products are clean anyway the issue is the growers that don't care about there patients and are just trying to pull profit even if its small but they grow really cheap and this bill will force us to do that too and many honest growers to stop growing and move to a day job that they probably don't want to do and thats what our industry will become a bunch of over processed tasteless cannabis that may or may not pass mandatory testing because most of the time the testing facilities test for the wrong contaminates anyway so what will testing do ? Not a thing just make it harder and push out small business and the people that actually grow good honest cannabis so I ask that this bill and the metrc bill not to be passed because then all we will have to smoke in other words will be trash basically and trash belongs in a dumpster not in our lungs. Thank you thats all I have to say !
