

Travis Luongo
Bridgton/Lost flower farm
LD 104

I am a small family owned cannabis farm, and we are able to see firsthand how excessive regulations—like expanded testing, and potency limits—drive up costs without improving safety. It just hasn't worked in other markets. While trying to provide patients the array of genetics needed to blanket the needs of every patient, testing each of these strains will hinder this dramatically.

Cannabis should be treated like agriculture—not regulated into the hands of monopolies. Please reject these harmful proposals and protect the people who grow clean, effective medicine every day.