

Edward Trommelen
Bridgton, ME
LD 1672

While I personally like using Metrc and its software, I think the forced use of it by the OCP is not just or fair. They force users to use Metrc further than what it was originally designed for- seed to sale tracking. I would continue to use Metrc if this bill were passed and use it in a way that makes sense for our company- not forced to use it in ways that are not viable to our business or makes conducting our business harder for others.