Hello John from Portland

we need to fix the testing before we can impose testing on both the med and adult use markets. we could send a test sample to 3 different labs and get 3 different results , if there was a system in place to catch inferious actors within the program that would make more sense, or if it was paid by the state to make it fair for small operators to be able to compete with the mso then it might work but it should not be on the burden on a small operator doing everything the right way
