LD 1002

Senator Carney, Representative Kuhn, and Members of the Judiciary Committee:

Thank you for the opportunity to submit testimony to the committee.

I am Rev. Dr. Wanda Stahl, a lifelong Mainer currently residing in Wells, ordained United Methodist Clergy and retired professor from Boston University School of Theology. I am writing in opposition to LD 1002.

I have worked with transgender colleagues, students, and parishioners for decades. I have been blessed and enriched by their stories and their presence in my life, and their contributions to the institutions I have served. Over these years, I have heard many heartbreaking stories of rejection, bullying, and other forms of violence and discrimination. I have also listened to students and colleagues who have been on the receiving end of such behaviors because they “looked” or “acted” like they were transgendered.

From my years serving as a professor in a theological school with a significant number of transgender persons, I know a supportive community is important for allowing people to thrive. A diverse community with equal access to opportunities for ALL students benefits everyone. I also know how important it is to treat people with respect, including the ways in which they wish to be named and identified.

The implications of this bill seem to go beyond just limiting the ability of transgendered youth to be named as they choose. If a student is named “James” on their birth certificate, does this mean that they cannot be called “Jim” or “Jimmy” in school? Is it a good use of the already limited time and energy of understaffed schools to be scrutixzing every student’s birth certificate? This bill is not only discriminatory, it is also cumbersome and burdensome.

In addition, given the large number of economic, environmental, and health related issues facing our state, devoting this level of attention to attacking a small, marginalized population of people seems a poor use of time and energy.

Thank you for the opportunity to share my perspective. I urge you to vote “Ought not to pass” on this bill.
