Hello,

My name is Jim Reitz and I live in Rockport Maine.

I have had a lifelong interest in astronomy and the night sky.

I feel lucky to live in Maine where light pollution is not the problem

It is in other states.

It's relatively easy to install street lighting so that there is minimal Impact on night sky viewing, The same goes for lighting around homes and commercial buildings.

The biggest need is to spread information to those responsible for Installing this lighting. This would be home owners and local town officials.

Thank you for taking my testimony.
