

Randy Robinson
Attorney at law
LD 555

This is Randy Robinson, an attorney I would like for child and family services for developmental disabled adults that can't take care of themselves and provide reunification services with developmental disabled adults regardless of age. I don't want adult protective services and I just want child and family services all in one for developmental disabled adults and children and infants. No more adult protective services and child and family services to work with district court for family matters such as parental rights and child support services for developmental disabled adults and visitation and I don't think there should be any probate court as a part of child and family services for developmental disabled adults. It should be just district court for developmental disabled adult children and child and family services help parents by petitioning the district court for parental rights for parents of developmental disabled adults.
