

Alison Saccani
Yarmouth
LD 2052

I wholeheartedly support this study as it concerns ipad and computer usage in schools, which feels inappropriately high, especially when paired with students' screen usage at home. School feels like a space where screens should be limited and books should be taught and used. Screens invite distraction, competition, addiction and so much more. Let's do the research -- and dial it back.