

Sarah Raymond-Boyan
Bangor
LD 2106

No child should live in fear of attending school, receiving healthcare, participating in their community, or simply enjoying the freedoms that childhood offers. And no parent should be faced with the choice of attending work to feed their families and keep a roof over their head or staying home to be with a child that has to sacrifice their education for their safety and wellbeing. No Maine parent should be afraid to send their child to school, take them to the doctor, or leave the house to meet their basic human needs. Maine must pass LD 2106 now.