Thank you for considering this bill. I strongly support it. The rights of people in Maine should not be threatened by the actions of individuals (however well-intentioned) who do not have the authority to undermine or challenge those rights.

Immigration officials should do their work according to the law, including with judicial warrants that authorize them to detain certain individuals or obtain particular records.

I work at a school where many people have the opportunity to hold a door open to allow individuals into non-public spaces. Those acts (again, however well-intentioned) should not determine the fates of people inside those buildings or other spaces who deserve the rights inherent in those non-public spaces.
