

Written testimony in support of Maine LD 2106: An Act to Prohibit the Disclosure of Nonpublic Records without Proper Judicial Review.

1/28/26

Members of the Judiciary Committee:

I am writing in support of LD 2106. I am a resident of Wiscasset and work as an educator and Maine Guide. The community support and resilience of this moment feels, from the removed perspective of a white US citizen, like the beginning of the covid pandemic. Community members in Maine and across the country are standing up for those who are most vulnerable to this pandemic of mass deportation and terror in our streets, schools, homes, and public spaces, by ICE.

As we did in 2020, we must create safety for our most vulnerable populations, this time by ensuring our schools, hospitals, and libraries are free from ICE. It is vital that our neighbors and community members be able to learn, access, and provide essential services without fear that they or their children will be threatened, abducted, or murdered by illegal law enforcement. It is also essential that their information be protected by their work places and schools. The trauma of this moment will ripple through many generations to come; providing assurance that ICE can not access private documents or force entry into sacred public spaces will provide some measure of reassurance to those who have been forced to shelter in place.

In 2020 many lawmakers made a huge effort to support children, our most vulnerable populations, and our essential workers. I urge you to vote “ought to pass” LD 2106 for the same reason.

Thank you so much for reading and considering testimony.

Rebecca Abuza

Rebecca Abuza
Wiscasset
LD 2106

Written testimony in support of Maine LD 2106: An Act to Prohibit the Disclosure of Nonpublic Records without Proper Judicial Review.

1/28/26

Members of the Judiciary Committee:

I am writing in support of LD 2106. I am a resident of Wiscasset and work as an educator and Maine Guide. The community support and resilience of this moment feels, from the removed perspective of a white US citizen, like the beginning of the covid pandemic. Community members in Maine and across the country are standing up for those who are most vulnerable to this pandemic of mass deportation and terror in our streets, schools, homes, and public spaces, by ICE.

As we did in 2020, we must create safety for our most vulnerable populations, this time by ensuring our schools, hospitals, and libraries are free from ICE. It is vital that our neighbors and community members be able to learn, access, and provide essential services without fear that they or their children will be threatened, abducted, or murdered by illegal law enforcement. It is also essential that their information be protected by their work places and schools. The trauma of this moment will ripple through many generations to come; providing assurance that ICE can not access private documents or force entry into sacred public spaces will provide some measure of reassurance to those who have been forced to shelter in place.

In 2020 many lawmakers made a huge effort to support children, our most vulnerable populations, and our essential workers. I urge you to vote “ought to pass” LD 2106 for the same reason.

Thank you so much for reading and considering testimony.

Rebecca Abuza