Derek Shirley here. Again. Why? I have no fckin' clue.

I got some cool titles since the last to saw me. In the town of Gray, I'm now Chair the of ordinance advisory committee and I sit on my zoning board of appeals. (Yes in Rep. Anne Grahams district)

It's clear this committee doesn't listen to the public if they pass any legislation regardless this piece of legislation. Over 500 pieces of testimony already against this bill and we still have to think about it? Who's paying who what? Because last time I checked, the state government should work for the people and the people alone. Vote how ever you want, I truly don't care. Because the plant will continue to grow, supporting this type of legislation will only be a gift to the "illicit grows" everyone "fears" so much. You even heard with your own 2 ears (I know I did from the shops basement) the cops aren't even stopping the illicit grows now! How the hell will they be able to control 1000s of more illegal grows which will be (indirectly or not) result of legislation like this. Like I said, before I find it absolutely unbelievably stupid we still even have to "submit testimony" at this stage in the game. Embarrassing.

AND The fact there is a CITIZEN BALLOT initiative that's covering a lot of these same issue, shouldn't we just let the PEOPLE decide and not 13 people behind the horse shoe. Even regardless of how I personally feel about testing and tracking. At the end of the day, I think the people should make the choice.

Seriously think about that that day/ may 5th: for a second, we filled over four rooms full of people over 500 piece of testimonies was submitted and the committee's response was "well let's work on this amendment" That's a huge middle finger to the public.

See ya never,
