

jason kuvaja
bridgton
LD 1847

I will remind the committee, that illicit markets are markets of opportunity. The criminal penalties of prohibition created a valuable product for those willing to risk jail. Legal markets that are over regulated trade criminal penalties for economic entry costs and administrative penalties.

The results are the same. Dispite the good intentions. If the goal is reducing illicit opportunity, govern with wisdom.