*Testimony of Senator Stacy Brenner introducing
LD 2094, An Act to Authorize a General Fund Bond Issue to Support Maine's Agricultural and Forestry Sectors*

before the Joint Standing Committee on Appropriations and Financial Affairs
January 20, 2026

Chair Rotundo, Chair Gattine, and members of the committee, my name is Senator Stacy Brenner, and I represent Senate District 30, which includes Gorham and much of Scarborough. I'm here today in strong support of LD 2094.

Last week, I had the privilege of hearing remarks by Annie Watson, a Maine dairy farmer and the recipient of the 2026 DACF Commissioner's Distinguished Service Award. As I listened, I thought of a Quaker phrase: "Friend speaks my mind." It's used when someone else gives voice to a truth you already hold—often more clearly and powerfully than you could yourself.

That's how Annie's words landed for me.

Annie reminded us that when people picture farming, they imagine a peaceful barn and a quiet sunrise. But as she put it, that moment usually happens "while you're also checking the weather, looking for the calf bottle you swear you just had, and realizing the 'quick chore' is now a full-blown crisis involving a wrench, a zip tie, and a prayer."

It's a line that makes us smile—but it also captures a deeper truth. Maine farming isn't romantic most days. It is constant responsibility, thin margins, and nonstop adaptation to weather, markets, and breakdowns. As Annie said simply, "Dairy is heavy because it never stops." And yet, farmers keep showing up.

That is exactly why this bond matters. Because all farming is heavy, food production never stops.

We know the demand for investment in agricultural and forestry infrastructure far exceeds what we currently make available. During the 2022 funding cycle, a comparable program received more than 850 applications requesting between $177 million and $180 million in funding—against an available budget of roughly $20 million.

Only 64 farms were awarded grants, and many of those farms have powerful stories of success—stories that show what happens when public investment helps unlock private effort, innovation, and resilience.

One example is Buck Family Farm in Aroostook County, which I had the opportunity to visit with other legislators during the annual Aroostook County farm tour sponsored by the AgComm. The Buck family spoke directly about how meaningful state investment has been to their success as a multigenerational Aroostook farm.

With that support, they are now producing a malt product for Maine breweries, made entirely from Aroostook-grown grains. That kind of investment does more than support a single farm—it helps create and stabilize markets for raw agricultural products, which is essential to rural economic development.

Grains play an extremely important role in a sustainable rotation with potatoes and broccoli—building soil health, managing pests, and improving long-term resilience. When those grains also have a viable market, they become not just a green cover crop, but a cash crop—strengthening farm businesses and keeping more economic value circulating in rural communities.

The success of those 64 farms shows us what works. The hundreds of unfunded applications remind us how much opportunity remains unmet.

Annie also reminded us what we lose when farms disappear: “When farms disappear, we don’t just lose production. We lose pieces of rural Maine.”

LD 2094 is not about nostalgia. It is about right now—and about whether Maine chooses to invest in the people who feed us, steward our forests, and hold rural communities together.

Because farms and forests don’t just produce food and fiber. They “hold communities together,” as Annie said. They keep land open and cared for, and they teach responsibility and stewardship in ways no policy memo ever could.

This bond is a practical, targeted investment in Maine’s future. I urge the committee to vote Ought to Pass on LD 2094.

Thank you for your time, and I’d be happy to answer any questions.
