Reasons for Fear of Immigrants

FEAR 1: Immigrants take jobs away from and drive down the wages of Americans.

FACT 1: The American Immigration Council (<https://www.americanimmigrationcouncil.org/report/new-american-fortune-500-2023/>) found that nearly 45% of Fortune 500 companies were founded by immigrants or their children (called “New American Fortune 500 companies”), bringing in more than $8 trillion in revenue and employing 14.8 million people.

FEAR 2: Immigrants strain public resources like schools, hospitals, and government assistance programs.

FACT 2: The Institute on Taxation and Economic Policy (<https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20250122/117827/HHRG-119-JU01-20250122-SD003.pdf>) found that, for every 1 million undocumented immigrants, public services receive $8.9 billion in additional tax revenue. On the flip side, for every 1 million undocumented immigrants who are deported, public services stand to lose $8.9 billion in tax revenue.

Also, more than a third of the tax dollars paid by undocumented immigrants are toward payroll taxes dedicated to funding programs – like Social Security and Medicare – that these workers are barred from accessing. They are also often barred from receiving meaningful tax credits like the Child Tax Credit or Earned Income Tax Credit.

FEAR 3: Immigrants commit more crime than citizens, especially drug trafficking, rape, and murder.

FACT 3: The National Bureau Of Economic Research found that since the 1960s, immigrants are 60% less likely to be incarcerated than U.S.-born people. (<https://www.npr.org/2024/03/08/1237103158/immigrants-are-less-likely-to-commit-crimes-than-us-born-americans-studies-find>)

Let's Do This Instead!

1. Americanize immigrants so it will not be us vs them with programs that teach them how to embrace American culture while still keeping the best of their own traditions, as well as helping them learn English in a reasonable amount of time.
2. Reduce the number of ICE agents and have them focus solely on KNOWN/PROVEN criminal immigrants (working with local law enforcement who know them better).
3. Use the others to beef up staff at USCIS (U.S. Citizenship & Immigration Services) and speed up the waiting process for citizenship. This will provide more people to investigate immigrants and reduce the chance of criminals coming in.

By Stacy L. Sanchez

As I saw a map
and stared at each of the fifty states -
either red or blue,
I couldn't help thinking chances are God would love
to reach down and swirl the red and blue
together -
creating purple.

Not purple
as it relates to any human meanings given
to purple,
but purple in
the way
that once

blue and red
are completely mixed,
the differences in color
combine
to make a
beautiful new color,
distinctly its own.

America -
somehow we have lost
what makes us distinctly
American.

Our push toward either red or
either blue
has left us
color blind
to the possibility of joining together
to form a more perfect union.

And while we are all
so uniquely different
as Americans,
we the people
are all just that -
people.

Our goals are the same
from sea to shining sea:
freedom,
equality,
the pursuit of happiness,
safety for our family,
a good life.

It really is just that simple.

A place to call home.
Food on our table.
Using our gifts and talents to make our world better - for the good of all.

This is America.

Anything else
is simply a distraction.

Neighbor helping neighbor.

You and me
living beside each other,
working beside each other,
building beside each other,
dreaming beside each other.

You and me
taking care of each other,
helping each other,
supporting each other,
instructing each other,
comforting each other,
understanding each other.

You and me
offering each other
the space
to believe
what we feel
in our heart
is ours to believe.

It's the Jesus way.

Jesus never forced
His way on others.

He simply
taught truth,
extended the
invitation to
"Follow me",
extended grace
and loved.

Red and blue
swirled together.

What a country
that would be.~♥
