The voice of Maine's forest economy

Testimony In Strong Opposition to LD 2212, Part O

Krysta West, Executive Director

Good afternoon, Senator Rotundo, Representative Gattine, Senator Grohoski, Representative Sayre and distinguished members of the Appropriations and Financial Affairs and Taxation committees. My name is Krysta West. I am a resident of Readfield, and I serve as the Executive Director of the Maine Forest Products Council. I am providing testimony today on behalf of our members in strong opposition to Part O of LD 2212, the Supplemental Budget.

For 65 years, the Maine Forest Products Council has served as the voice of Maine's forest economy, representing hundreds of members from all facets of the forest products industry. Our members include pulp and paper mills, sawmills, secondary wood processors, foresters, loggers and truckers. We also represent commercial landowners sustainably managing more than 8 million acres of forestland.

Together, this industry remains one of Maine's largest economic engines, sustaining 29,000 jobs spread across all 16 counties, anchoring rural communities, and contributing $8.3 billion to the state's economy. ¹When forest products businesses struggle, entire regions of Maine feel the impact.

Part O of LD 2212 proposes a dramatic and retroactive elimination of the Business Equipment Tax Reimbursement (BETR) program for forest products companies—a change that would destabilize operations across the industry and undermine the significant progress Maine has made in growing a resilient forest economy. Based on the information available, approximately 60 forest products companies would be directly affected by this change. The retroactive nature of the proposal would claw back approximately $1.6 million from last year and $3.1 million from this year alone—unexpected losses that no business can responsibly plan for.

At a time when Maine's forest industry is working hard to retain its workforce and strengthen rural economies, Part O would unexpectedly increase taxes on forest products businesses by the equivalent of 52 good-paying jobs per year – jobs that the BETR program have helped our businesses retain. These jobs matter in every corner of the state— but especially in rural communities where forest products companies are often the largest employers.

Retroactively eliminating the BETR program would be a significant tax increase on approximately 60 forest products companies—including all four remaining paper mills and many of our sawmills. From logging operations in the forest to our mills and manufacturing facilities, Maine's forest industry is highly capital-intensive, requiring continuous reinvestment to remain competitive in global markets. In the past six years alone, MFPC members have invested at least $1.5 billion into Maine. The abrupt rollback of BETR represents a material tax increase on companies whose investments keep the state's forest economy strong. Retroactive taxation erodes business
