It should be clear to any thinking person that the warning given some 50 years ago by Rachel Carson in "Silent Spring" needs desperately to be heeded. As one who grew up in Maine in the 1950's I recall far more wildlife and especially more diversity of birds. Walking in the forest is now indeed Silent Spring! True we have an abundance of turkeys, and crows, robins and a few others. but many more rare to find.

YES to LD 125!
