

Megan Marquis
China Village

With the amount of top soil we have left, this is necessary to look into. Traditional ways of farming are no longer sustainable- we need to research ways that are - so we can continue to locally support our own.