

Scott Cybulski
Maine Golf Course Superintendents Association

The proposed pesticide registry is blatant government overreach into a program that is already well managed. The proposal would add unnecessary logistics to both the Board of Pesticides and the applicators. The end result would be less integrated management and more formal calendar scheduled applications resulting in more pesticides applied throughout the season.