LD 2013

I am writing to urge support for passage of LD 2013 in the support of Maine farmers affected by PFAS contamination on their land. As a farmer myself, I can understand and share in the grief and upset these farmers are experiencing. I consider the 142-acres of permitted Tier 1 fields up the hill from us that are 3/4 of a mile away from both our personal and our ag well, and wonder if this is enough of a buffer to protect us from a chemical that lasts for 25k+ years and moves through groundwater.

I share my own worries about being within an affected watershed, so am pursuing testing as due diligence, but moreso I am writing from a feeling of compassionate anger for those who are right in the center of this tragedy. The State needs to address these challenges for individual farming families, and for the people of Maine, by supporting LD 2013.
