LD 2013

I am a resident of Brunswick and I am in support of LD 2013. I deeply believe in the power of small, local farms to build vibrant communities and healthy food systems in Maine. The small farmers affected by PFAS contamination are doing incredible work to rebuild the soil, sequester carbon, create community hubs, and restore thriving and sustainable local food networks. I call upon the state to support these farmers by providing monetary aid and logistical support for lost income, PFAS testing, and other support - they cannot make it through this crisis without state assistance. Without our farms, we cannot thrive as sustainable communities.
