

Janet Drew
York

I support this necessary bill.

The Department of Corrections can only fulfill its mission to return residents to society by addressing all aspects that impact a successful transition. Treatment for substance use disorder during incarceration is a critical component of transition work. All aspects of transition plans need to begin at arrest.