CJPS committee members,

I strongly oppose LD 1454.

Maine does not have a problem with untraceable and undetectable firearms, and certainly doesn't need a law to prohibit them. I urge you to do some research, and see if you can find any amount of crimes in Maine in which an "untraceable" or "undetectable" firearm was used. You won't, because they aren't.

This is another push by special interest groups like Moms Demand Action and Everytown For Gun Safety to force their anti-2A garbage on the citizens of Maine. We don't need it anymore now than we ever have, and we aren't likely to need it anytime in the future. LD 1454 ought not pass!
