

Craig Williams
Sanford
LD 696

Solitary Confinement is an in-human practice that should be done away with. It's based off old practices of U.S torture and brutal treatment towards marginalized communities. If we're serious about building our communities we should also be serious about mental health of the community. People are suffering from such old practices of Solitary confinement and will be released to anyone's community if you care about your community you should care about what Solitary Confinement does to people because the old way does not work