LD 60

I strongly oppose LD60 as it is completely unconstitutional. It has been proven time and again that a waiting period does not deter crime, and no law will stop a determined criminal from committing a crime. Furthermore, in the defense of self defense, which is a constitutionally protected right, LD60 would prohibit a person from being able to protect themselves for days. I can think of no greater horror than being a victim of domestic violence and being told "sorry, you can't protect yourself for 3 more days."
