

Ann Schoenthaler-Ervin
SMITHFIELD

LD552 ensures that educational technicians, who work closely with students identified with educational disabilities, will be present at IEP meetings. This ensures that all expertise and information is brought to bear when IEPs are determined. In addition it makes good sense that if there is disagreement about changes to the IEP, it stays in place until consensus has been reached or due process is pursued.

Ann Schoenthaler-Ervin, Ph.D.
Licensed Psychologist
Certified School Psychologist