

Crystal Robinson
Hope

I believe it is important to teach young people about African American history and genocide. However, it is very important to not include political bias. Important African-American leaders including conservative leaders such as Thomas Sowell need to be included. The genocide in communist countries should be included as well.