

Jameson Davis
Kennebunkport
LD 394

I'd like to submit my concerns and absolute disagreement with this bill. Parental rights are sacred and in adjusting the existing avenues for abuse controls and protections to include transgender issues, this is destroying the family unit as well as creating illegal channels of control of children. If this does pass, you better believe parents across the state will be suing individual districts and the state for breach of control, over bearing Actions, child abuse, kidnapping, you name it. We will look forward to pulling our children from the public school system, crippling the system with decreased funding, exposing radical agendas to control the next generation, I could go on. You claim this bill is to protect children, but it's just another way of grooming children in this popular and trendy fad we are seeing. These kids are not even old enough to vote, join the military, drink alcohol, etc. But you're taking parents out of the decisions of life changing and altering possibilities. That is child abuse.