

Anna Sommo
Portland
LD 2001

I went through all of my schooling in Maine public schools in the 90s and 2000s. I was taught very, very little about African American studies- and I feel like as an adult I am having to seek out the education I believe I should've gotten as a student in Maine public schools. African American history and culture is essential and should be taught to all students. I strongly support LD 2001.