

Michael Reddy
Pembroke

Hello-

My name is Michael Reddy. I am a farmer, carpenter and vocational educator from Pembroke, ME in Washington County. I am writing to appreciate LD 911 in its simplicity, intent, and directness, and urge you to vote Ought to Pass. I rely upon clean water and soil for my livelihood as do my friends, family and neighbors, and micro plastics are a persistent threat to this. Its been too long that outside forces have attempted to take profit from Maine while leaving waste and pollution. The recent spill in Searsport is only the most obvious alarm bell, but whether the plastic is spilled into the ocean or not, the very idea of importing foreign plastic to incinerate flies in the face of any semblance of local stewardship or environmental responsibility.

Thanks for addressing the issue of imported plastic waste so directly and clearly, and for your continued efforts to make Maine and healthy place for our great grandchildren to grow up in.
