The OSW port is important to fight climate change

The jobs will be good, family sustaining jobs, many will be union

We should do everything we can to make sure that, if this dune is removed, others are created or other similar spaces are protected.

We can protect Maine's environment, fight climate change, and produce high quality economic development in Waldo County and beyond.

OSW is our best defense against climate change, and our best chance to stop the storms that have decimated our coast over the past several months and the cycle of drought to flood that we've been in.
