

Megan Marquis
China Village

Postpartum is serious and care is essential. Insurance companies- regardless of whether they are private or not - should all cover the costs of care. It's time women's health was taken more seriously. I support this act to require private insurance coverage for postpartum care.