

Jodie LaChance
Vassalboro
LD 263

To the members of the committee on Health Coverage, Insurance and Financial Services:

You and I know the rhetoric: “It’s my body”, “it’s not a baby – just a clump of cells”, “it’s my right to choose”, etc. Once we get past all of the arguing and politics and rhetoric we come to the essence of the truth: A CHILD'S LIFE IS AT STAKE. She cries out to you to help her live. He wants to be loved and held. A Maine Citizen is asking, begging, crying out -- to all of you-- to live. Do take to heart this cry for help. Every effort to ban, regulate, legislate, and remake policy only hurts Maine, the nation and ultimately each one of us personally. Killing is still a crime. Let us not make it legal. In Maine, in our nation, on our planet.