

Janet Drew
York

I support all bills that seek to support services for individuals and families at risk and in crisis. Decades of incarceration has taught us that policing and arrest are not the solution to social problems and individuals with mental health issues. State, counties, and communities, local agencies and towns all have an obligation to partner for support services that will provide alternatives to incarceration.