

Suzanne Hamilton
Freeport

Please make Maine the next state to ban the sale of cosmetic products tested on animals!

Testing cosmetics on animals is cruel and inhumane. It is not right to treat other living beings this way. The pain and torment they suffer is unnecessary because cosmetics companies can already create innovative products using thousands of ingredients that have a history of safe use and do not require any new animal testing