

Lindsae Lasko
Hampden

Animals should not have to suffer at the cost of a human's "beauty", simply because they have no voice. Animal testing as a whole is 100% inhumane and extremely unethical and should not be allowed, period. We, as a population, should be better than this and we should expect better than this for our future generations. We need to be the change.