

C S
Standish

Prior to Covid I was a full-time, working musician expecting my first child. Without support for artists and venues alike, we may be faced with fewer opportunities to work, and many individuals who otherwise greatly contribute to our local arts and culture, giving up their dreams for a different career path.