It strikes me as ironic that a governmental entity whose mission is to protect and steward wildlife is placed in a position counter to that mission with no authority to do what is right. To have to allow speed boat races, water ski exhibitions, regattas and the like in waters critical to water fowl is at best absurd. We have a pair of loons that we fret over in terms of their safety from any external activity -- man-made or natural! Enacting these protections is a no-brainer that you are morally obligated to follow through on. Please do so, and thank you.
