My name is Ralph and I would ask you to consider allowing hunting on Sundays on private land with permission. I own 60 acres in Aroostook county and the only days that I get to hunt is on Saturdays. Why? Because this law is outdated. We are not asking for hunting to be done on public property so the people who don't want hunting on Sundays shouldn't really have a say in this. If they don't want someone hunting on their property don't give them permission. Why should they be able to decide what private landowners do with their property. The private landowner pays taxes on that land they should be able to do with it what they want. Besides think of the additional revenue this will bring in, at a time when all budgets are spread thin. Thank you for allowing me to give my opinion, and allow Sunday hunting in Maine.
