I believe Sunday hunting would be very beneficial for the working hunter. I know there is some people that disagree and feel as though it will cause more people to just post their land instead of dealing with giving permission for Sunday hunting. However this issue can easily be solved by "No hunting on Sunday" signs being made available. Tht way peole worried that implied consent may cause issues can rest easy and have a simple way to keep their land open for hunting only 6 days a week if that is what they wish.
