I'm writing on behalf of legacy Ranch glamping. We are a very small family owned and run business just trying to succeed in northern Maine. We have spent thousands of dollars billing over the past few years while operating expenses run at an all-time high we must explore every option and opportunity to be able to grow and sustain our business. A part of that comes from utilizing our surrounding resources such as hunting and guide services. It would be nice if we could afford to build a facility solely dedicated to hunting and guiding, but that is just not feasible or anywhere near sensible. We are a working family trying to make a living while providing tremendous service for locals, as well as people across the state and the country. People want to come to the great state of Maine for the amazing opportunity to hunt. We provide talented guide service and spend months preparing. We are providing economic value to the state of Maine as well as our small community while showcasing other opportunities that we have here. We must for our success, offer our facilities for a variety of events not just a few weeks a year. In reality, how many of you would be able to work for just three or four weeks a year and be able to pay your bills and your mortgage. It is not fair that you ask us to do the same.
