

Cindy DiRusso
Londonderry

My name is Cindy Dill DiRusso, and my older sister, Debra Ann Dill, was brutally murdered on September 16, 1973. At the time of this nightmare, I was 12 years old with 1 older and 3 younger siblings. Our family was torn apart by this senseless killing of a daughter, sister and friend. The murderer was sentenced to life in prison, but every 5 years, he goes before the parole board to try to gain his freedom. We, as a family, fight like crazy to keep him, this predator, right where he belongs. He admits to an "unfortunate incident" ooh wait...does he mean the senseless and brutal murder he committed? Every 5 years we are traumatized by what he has done to us, to our family. I fear for my life and that of my family if he is ever paroled. We have spoken loud, long and fought hard to keep him where he belongs. If your proposed bill should pass, families like us will have to relive our horrors over and over again. Can he be rehabilitated? Not in my mind. Anyone that commits a murder should be held accountable and serve his sentence to the fullest. As a family, we will fight the parole till his last breath...please do not put any other family through this hell
