As a Certified School Counselor in a public elementary school, I would like to share my shock and concern that it is not already illegal for minors' personal information to be shared publicly. I am concerned for children's safety and school safety at a time when identity issues have become a political issue. There are too many people with radicalized beliefs about identities who could take violent action against schools or families based on what is in essence an individual's personal freedoms to present the gender that they identify.
