This prohibition on so called high-capacity magazine is a very arbitrary one. no one knows the number of rounds it is going to take to stop a threat. It may only take one well-placed shot but in the heat of the moment, with adrenaline pumping the shot may not be as well placed as hoped, and additional shots will be needed. As much as we would like to think we are "John Wick", that is just a movie. in real life we are not that accurate. This ban is a feel good measure that will do nothing to make us safer. this law would just burden the lawful gun owner.
