

Brynn Lewallen
Portland
LD 975

I strongly urge Maine lawmakers to oppose this bill. Criminalizing abortion in Maine will mean that Maine residents who need abortions for medical reasons will have to leave the state and seek treatment elsewhere, or seek treatment underground, which frequently results in adverse health outcomes. It is a woman's right to decide what to do with her own body, and neither the state or federal government should have any part in it.