The ATF already requires much of what they're proposing in this bill. Site hardening, Alarms, video surveillance, theft prevention, mandatory training for employees, record retention (ATF requires 25 years), reporting multiple sales and thefts. This is already required by federal law and the ATF. I have some deep concerns here. You're going to task the department of Public Safety to come up with the rules and regulations and then the enforcement?... Just like you did with Peggy Rotundo's 72 hour waiting period?. Every single FFL in Maine that complied with that law saw how ineffective the Department was at holding the one store who was in complete violation of that law accountable. It begged/ begs a business ethics investigation to see if anyone at the state level had a tie in with the shop in violation who was getting more sales due to their lack of the enforcement of the 72 hour waiting period. The ATF couldn't enforce that bill either due to it's poor writing. I am not convinced that the writing of this will be any better and won't hold any weight with the ATF. I would like to know if Amy Kuhn, Anne Carney, Vicki Doudera, Lori Gramlich, Adam Lee, or Matthew Moonen are aware of current ATF requirements for FFL'S or if they even reached out to the ATF for any guidance or advice. It would appear not by the suggestion of this bill. Our licenses are federal licenses not state licenses how does the state think they have the authority or legal basis to access our sales records? What is the reasoning for access? Is it to create and illegal database of firearm owners? Lastly, I would ask why the sponsors of this bill aren't adopting stronger laws for individuals/criminals who break the law by illegal sales/ possession/ trafficking? Instead they seem to be hyper focused on the ones who are the last line of defense at filtering out straw purchases, upholding current laws and requirements and the ones who do a damn good job at screening individuals(if you weren't aware now you are the ATF/FBI gives us the authority to profile you) for signs.
