

Kimberley Soucy
Lincoln
LD 380

“Most people are guilty of the evil of inaction because your mom says mind your own business. You have to say humanity is my business.” Philip Zimbardo

<https://youtu.be/OsFEV35tWsg>

The psychology of evil.

Mindlessly taking the first small step (it's only girl's bathrooms, don't be a bigot)
Dehumanizing others (men in dresses with phalluses, dehumanizing while displaying a self loathing)

De-individualization of self (you've put on a mask, you belong to a mob mentality T's)

Diffusion of personal responsibility (it's not your fault I don't want you in the bathroom with my daughter, somehow I'm hateful and deserve to be demoralized and devalued. Shamed into silence and acceptance.)

Blind obedience to authority (the doctors and institutions telling you this is valid behavior)

Look for a bigger motive

Our sons and daughters need protection from the psychology of evil. It's not new.

When did it become kindness to tell anyone they are so disfigured that man needs to intervene medically or they will die? For the way nature made them from the beginning?