

Susan Davis Doughty
Scarborough
LD 1971

Maine law enforcement's responsibilities are not those of Homeland Security. And we need to be certain that our law enforcement is not taking action against friends and neighbors in Maine if that action is not directed at someone who is doing something against the law. As we know in other states, people who were saying things that were not acceptable to this Administration were being arrested and imprisoned. Also it has happened that people of uncertain status have been sent to offshore prisons without due process.