

Peter Evans
Camden
LD 1378

I oppose this measure as not needed in Maine. Maine already has a yellow flag law that is sufficient for law enforcement and mental health professionals to protect the public. Maine presumably also has civil commitment procedures. Either could have prevented the incident in Lewiston.

I am also concerned about out of state money behind signature gathering and efforts to sidestep normal public deliberation for this measure.