I oppose LD 1378, Extreme Risk Protection Order Act (Red Flag Law, in disguise) because, Maine is already safely and effectively utilizing our current yellow flag law. A Red Flag Law would muddle that effective mechanism. A Red Flag Law could place law abiding gun owners and law enforcement officers at extreme risk of serious injury or death by the latter showing up announced at a law abiding citizen's home, demanding they turn over their property and pushing their way into said home, regardless of what the homeowner wishes. You do know how this would look, right? A team of law enforcement officers, dressed in full battle rattle, carrying the very weapons you are afraid of, stressed because of the danger they are being placed into by this law should it pass, waking a US citizen up and demanding a potentially innocent person to allow them in so they can search through their private property and seize what hasn't committed a crime. Sounds like an infringement of our rights as Americans to me. Due process is a thing in America. Our yellow flag law provides that. Please consider voting against this dangerous legislation. Thank you.
